DuScha Named Employee of All Seasons at Annual Recognition Event

The Board of Commissioners today announced Charles DuScha as Adams County Employee of ALL Seasons at the Employee Recognition Luncheon.

Charles began his career with Adams County on June 24, 2002, as Risk Manager in the Human Resources Department. As part of the county's employee recognition program, Charles was nominated and chosen as the Fall Employee of the Season in the Success in Practice category for his work on creating an on-site health care clinic and workout facility for employees.

"Charles is a dedicated and talented visionary and an outstanding employee," said County Manager Todd Leopold. "The addition of these two facilities will help the county combat the rising price of health care by creating a healthier workforce."

Adams County currently has approximately 1,800 employees who serve the county's 450,000 residents. To become Employee of All Seasons, employees are nominated and voted on by their coworkers, the Employee of the Season Committee, and Adams County citizens.

The Employee Recognition Luncheon is an annual event to recognize employees who have reached a milestone year with the county, employees with more than 20 years of service and the Employee of the Season award recipients.
