Oil and Gas Development Regulations Meeting

Eagle View Adult Center
1150 Prairie Center Pkwy, Brighton, CO 80601

Adams County invites you to attend an informational meeting to learn about traffic impact fees and regulations associated with oil and gas development in the County. The County has hired a consultant, TischlerBise with Felsburg, Holt & Ullevig , to conduct a study and methodology to establish oil and gas impact fees for the County. The County would like to present information about this project, as also obtain input from the public in the process of establishing the impact fees.

In April of 2016, Adams County adopted revised regulation amendments for oil and gas development. The County is currently considering additional amendments to these regulations and would like your participation as well.

The County is hosting two meetings for the public in August. The first meeting will focus on the oil and gas traffic impact fees. The second meeting will introduce the regulation amendments and also include the traffic impact fees. Representatives from both Adams County and the consultant group will be present at the meetings to discuss and answer your questions.
